

Year 2:

Being Me in My World

Key Learning

People belong to and have different roles in groups such as:

I have different rights and responsibilities in school and in the wider community.

There are ways in which people are the same and different to others in their community, but they are all equal.

Our community can help people from different groups feel included.

Everyone has hopes that they would like to achieve. I can recognise when I feel worried and identify some fears I might have about the year ahead.

I know who to ask when I need help.

People have different skills. It is important to listen to other people. This is respectful and makes them feel valued.

I have the right to be listened to. My views are valued by others.

When I make positive choices, they have a positive impact on my learning and the learning of others. When I make a positive choice I am rewarded.
When wrong choices are made there is always a consequence.
