

Year 3: Relationships

Key Learning

Family members have different roles and responsibilities and carry out different roles. It is important not to stereotype roles in the house including gender. Mums and dads can both be carers, stay at home parents or workers.

When I am online I can keep myself safe by using, but not sharing passwords, using trusted websites and having adult supervision.

I am aware that there are things that are and aren't appropriate to share with friends, family, classmates and wider social groups.

I am aware that everyone's lives are different and that all children around the world will have different lives, upbringings and experiences.

I have a good understanding that some of the actions and work of people around the world influence my life. This includes food, clothes and other items produced and made abroad. This also includes books, education methods and games.

Applying certain skills can help grow and develop a friendship

- Taking turns to speak
- Being a good listener
- Showing each other appreciation

I recognise respectful behaviours such as: helping and including others, being responsible, listening to others, using manners etc.

It is important to model respectful behaviours in different situations e.g. at home, at school and online.

All children have the right to be loved, be provided food, shelter and care. The UNCRC ensures that every child is granted those rights.

I can understand the difference between what children want and what children need.

Wants	Needs
PlayStation	Shelter
Sticker book	Food
Holiday	Love
